

CLASSICAL SOCIOLOGICAL THEORY

By Justin C.

INTRODUCTION:

The Sociological Theorist G. Simmel focuses on a few main ideas that outline and define his theoretical works.

His ideas consist of sociability; the focus on the sociological workings of

- Simmel focused heavily on social contradictions, concepts on dualism, and social conflicts, often scrutinizing interactions that occur between diverse groups in society.
- One level of concern in his theories is exemplified in Simmel views in the nature and inevitable fate of humanity. Simmel focused heavily on social contradictions, concepts on dualism, and social conflicts, often scrutinizing interactions that occur between diverse groups in society
- His views on sociological theories relate through his works providing a linking theme that humanity is destined to unconsciously be subjected and influenced by society developing personalities and psyches.

RESEARCH QUESTION:

- A FEW PEOPLE WERE ASKED IF THEY THINK LIVING IN A BIG CITY INFLUENCES THEIR INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT IN SOCIETY

- Theory that is represented throughout the article focus on the idea that inner and outer stimuli of a metropolis greatly influences the development of an individual through conditioning in its environment.

TWO PEOPLE WHO WERE A FELLOW COWORKER AND FAMILY MEMBER ANSWERED YES DUE TO THE FACT THAT THERE ARE MANY OPPORTUNITIES IN THE CITY AND MORE AVAILIABLE RESOURCES TO HAVE ACCESS TO

TWO ANSWERED NO WHICH WERE MY FATHER AND A MY COUSIN, THEIR REASONS WERE BECAUSE OF COMPETITION DUE TO THE POPULATION AND ALSO THE EXPENSES OF LIVING IN THE CITY HAVE AN EFFECT IN THEIR MENTAL HEALTH.